Poetry.

The Bashful Love.

Ah, well! John came to-night, and stood
For full an hour beside the bars,
And we two watched, between the trees,
The glimmer of the moon and stars,
John acted very strange, I think—
I wish I knew the reason why;
I really thought he meant to say
Something to-night besides good-by

John's coming here quite often now;
I'm sure I don't know why he should—
Although my sister Jenny says
It's talked about the neighborhood
That he is making love to me—
The strangest thing I ever heard;
For if it's true, how queer it is
That John has never said a word.

Ah, well! I shouldn't care so much
If John himself had told me so;
For then he might have said it all
Upon his own account, you know.
But he's so bashful, I believe
He'd never dare to speak out plain;
I hope he'll muster courage up,
And try it, when he comes again.

It cannot be that I'm to blame—
I'm sure I've helped him all I could;
I've always met him at the bars
And talked as any woman would
That had a lover whom she liked,
And waited, with her heart aglow,
For him to break the subject first,
And then how quick she'd let him know!

But John he keeps a-coming still,
Just as he has for twelve months past.
I've thought sometimes it looked as though
I'd have to speak myself at last.
I'm bound that he shall know the truth;
And now, resolved, I cannot wait
For him to find it nimself,
And so, next time, I'll try my fate.

Evenings at Home No. 6.

BY HECLA HOLLYWOOD.

"A pebble in the streamlet scant,
Has turned the course of a mighty river.
A dewdrop on the baby plant
May warp the giant oak forever."

Little things! Little indeed, but how telling. Do not the roses fall "leaf by leaf?" "The world is made of little things," and all the happiness it affords. One drop of gall embitters the sweetest cup of life; one word will wither the most promising hope; one flaw will destroy the most beautiful rose. Who is there that has a hope long cherished, that does not bind all circumstances to its support; magnifying the favorable signs, and totally ignoring the other and dark side, until the accomplishment of this one object has become the darling wish of the heart. To such a one I am intelligible. He will tell you that one look, one word, might crush the very life from hope itself.

Who is there that has not seen the most brilliant noonday's sun beclouded sun, beclouded darkly ere he reach his western throne? The morn may be bright and beautiful, but that is no surety that the evening will be fair and calm, for the cloud which is now no larger than a man's hand may accumulate as it travels, through the trackless air until nature's artillery breaks the gloomy silence. Storms follow sunshine, which is again succeeded by storms. Change, constant change is written on every thing. As in the natural world so in the moral; stormclouds of passion, of disappointment, of revenge and of remorse alternately tear the human heart.

The sad memory of a hope once divine in its perfect trust, giving to all things a new and brighter face, now looks down through the dim vista of departed years. and contrasting its brilliancy with the present gloom, deepens the darkness ten fold; for just so strong the hope, so deep the despair, so high the expectation, so lowly may we be sunk in the vale of despondency. "A man may smile and yet be a villain," and in proportion to our love and respect for the gentleman, is our contempt and hatred for the villain.

When we love we are in the most desirable condition to hate, for if we like, we may simply dislike, but hate is the only alternative when we have loved. To have one's earthly idol crush itself is a trial few need covet. The gathering of shattered hopes, betrayed trusts and missplaced confidences is not a desirable occupation. To hear the worlds laugh; to see the finger of scornful humanity pointed at the bleeding heart wound, does not improve christian charity. All may come of little things, our credulity once imposed upon, the imposer is flattered, and follows a course calculated to afford food for his vanity.

How often do we thus question ourselves: can it be, is it indeed possible that so much deceit, hypocracy and dissimulation can exist under that charming exterior?

It is not presumption to think that he is so pleasing and it may be kind and loving, who is perchance vowing eternal fidelity to thee only; has acted that very same little scene scores of times, and intends availing himself of every future opportunity. Ah! beware, when he swears then spurn him; experience teaches all things must change, or fade; the most beautiful things give only a flattering light; then the most faithful promises may be, nay often are broken. Why can we not believe that there must be danger near when we acknowledge delights.?

Does not the sweetest rose conceal a thorn? Why gather roses? Is it not far better to live without the fragrance than with the pain? Poor deluded mortals, not content with the "golden mean," we want the extreme, either of which blights our happiness eventually.

Sometimes we fancy that we have found in a fellow creature our embodiment of perfection. We hug the thought to our hearts, rejoicing in the newly discovered philosophers stone of our existence. When lo! the adder which we warmed to life in our bosom has stung us, yea, to the very heart!

Does the hand which aimed the blow mitigate the pain? Methinks it does not. Was not Ceasar stabbed by his friend Brutus? True is is that they who give us most pleasure, are capable of giving us most pain. Would it not be far better to die by the hand of an acknowledged foe, than of a dear friend? Hard it is indeed when the hand we love strikes; it is difficult to forgive and is never forgotten. The wound may heal over and assume its natural color but the scar is there, to follow us to the grave, and the least pressure makes its gash ane[illegible] [illegible] may be some who have no [illegible] no scar to remind them of th[illegible]nces; these must be very happy. H[illegible] grateful should they be, th[illegible] hand which holds the cup of li[illegible]r lips is firm and steady, keeping back the bitter dregs, permitting them to quaff leisurly, and enjoy its sweetness; grateful that no cloud darkens their horizen, no fears torment their minds, or disappointments check the giddy round of pleasure. Ah, they know not the names of the evils that the flesh is heir to! Ye who claim the friendship of such be careful, very careful, do not drop a word, or hint a suspicion that might cause trouble, for such exquisite happiness may be changed to abject misery.

We cannot see the effect of one little word until it is uttered; see the mother's angry brow, the childs bruised head; thus quickly may we freeze over the fount of happiness, gushing so freely in childhood. Our childish sorrows and troubles, how insignificant they now appear! yet they had their effects; but now they are over, the've lost half their weight, and will it be so in after years with our present troubles? Perhaps so, but while we are suffering these things, what do we learn? To read mankind at the expense of our faith in it. What fearful cost! It is a hard thing to lose—our faith in our fellow man, will cling long and vainly to wrecked hopes,—thinking to extract consolation therefrom, instead of which we find ourselves imbibing the bitterest gall. Perhaps as we near the other shore and our interest in life and the world decreases, we may find consolation and comfort from above, and come safely to our mooring on the other side.

Learning to put out Fires.

I propose that every boy and girl in the United States should be an educated fireman or fire woman, that they should know how at once to attack fires, and with the knowledge and means that almost always insures success. It was my pleasure some years since to have conversation with a former President of Harvard University upon the subject of fires. He also taught his children what to do if a fire occurred on the premises. One of the boys when in college woke up one night, and found the outer room of his suit on fire. The thermometer was below zero, the water-pipes were frozen up, and the nearest water was to be had at a pump quite a distance from the building. He had bathed the night before and that water had not been thrown away. By using it with care, a little water just where it was wanted, there was enough to extinguish the fire. In the mean time the fire had been seen by a watchman, who gave an alarm which brought out all the fire department. So much for an education which cannot be acquired in any school in the country. While thinking of the ex-president, I will write an anecdote he told me, for I think it may be a great use to any person who does not know of the practical way of extinguishing fires which it illustrates.

When a lad he sometimes worked in a cabinet maker's shop. One day he helped the workmen make up a part of a barrel of varnish. In the evening, when the owner came home and was looking about the place, he saw the varnish. To satisfy his curiosity he took the bung, and looked into the barel, and to aid his vision he held the light near the bung hole, when presto! the vapor from the barrel met the blaze of the lamp and ran back into the barrel; the varnish took fire, and in two hours the great shop, sheds, stock, furniture, and I think the house and barn, were in ashes. Now for the lesson. "If," says the President, "the man had clapped his hand instantly over the bung hole, or put the bung in, or, if too hot, he had seized a rag or a piece of board, and covered it, the fire would have been out in a moment." Asking my readers to remember this I pass to my lesson upon the education of fireman.

Every grammar-school teacher should be able to tell of the dangers of spontaneous combustion, of each new chemical as it is discovered, of the danger of friction matches, oils, etc., and how to avoid the danger if they set fire to the house, or to the clothing on a persen. They should also have at the school an engine, with which they should at special times experiment before the highest class, both of boys and girls, and should also have a hatchet or an ax, or both, and explain how fire may now work its way over a building between the walls of the ceiling or partitons, and that the walls can be easily broken by an ax or hatchet, when water enough to put out the fire may be thrown into such places with an engine. They should be taught that water will put out kerosene, tar, resin, and similar substances which may have taken fire about the house, and above all, they should teach the value of a calm, collected, fearless, and earnest method of attacking fire and of meeting any danger.

This should be also taught to the pupils of all the State and City Normal Schools, and experiments made with small fires, to show how very effective such means are when early applied, to put out even fires of considerable magnitude, and which would insure the destruction of buiidings a few minutes later.—From Bird's "Protection against Fires."

The People's Friend.

It is susceptible of easy proof that the Sewing Machine has been a greater blessing to the masses of American people than any invention of the present century. Nothing else has done so much to save the lives and health of the wives and mothers, the patient, overworked women of the land, who, as a class, most needed relief from the burdens of everyday life. Every father and husband fails in his his duty if he neglects to endow his home with such a triumph of science as the Howe Sewing Machine. It is the cheapest and best sewing machine ever offered. Call and see them, or take one on trial from Mr. F. L. Kurtz, Hertfod and Elizabeth City, who sells at New York prices and on very easy terms. The Southern people should bear in mind that many machines are sold in the South at an advance of fifteen dollars over New York price. See advertisement.

"Lame!" sighed Mrs. Partington. "Here I have been sufferin' the bigamies of death for three mortal weeks. First I was seized with a bleedin' phrenology in the hampshire of the brain, which was stoppage of the left ventilator of the heart. This gave me inflamation of the left borax, and now I am sick with bleesin' like that of health, particularly when you're ill."

A Trip to Montreal.

BY M. V. B. GILBERT.

Leaving Raleigh on the 28th of May, a pleasant ride took the writer to Portsmouth, where he stepped aboard the steamer for Baltimore. The Louisiana is a fine steamer and the tables are supplied with food fit for the gods. The pleasant chit-chat and the conversation of more depth is listened to until the time for retiring comes.

The Monumental City is reached, but the stay here is short, and soon the train is at Philadelphia. The old State-house was visited. The bell which was rung on a certain memorable occasion was closely inspected. Mr. Menamin and his gentlemanly salesmen were very kind, likewise others of the craft.

The steamer "City of New York" makes the run from the metropolis after which she was named to New London, Conn., during the night, and here the cars of the Vermount Central are taken.

The scenery of Vermont is grand. Pretty towns sleep in valleys; backgrounds of mountains make tall spires appear low, and the good-sized building not much larger than the martin's home. Refreshments are taken at St. Albans, industrious New England girls the ganymede.

The border is reached, and the customs officer performs his delicate duty of "going through" your baggage. The lady's answer, that she has nothing subject to duty, will save her trunk from overhauling.

Montreal is a beautiful city, of about 160,000 inhabitants, with 10,000 excess of females. There are church accommodations for 60,000, and more churches erecting. Cathedral Notre Dame is a fine edifice, while the beauty of some of the Jesuit churches cannot be told. All the Protestant denominations have their houses of worship as well. There is a monument, surmounted by a statue of Nelson, commemorative of the victories achieved by the great Admiral—the defeat of the Danish Line moored for the defense of Copenhagen, and other triumphs of British arms, closing with that of Trafalgar, where Death demanded a victory, and took the gallant Lord. A statue of Victoria stands in a public square bearing the name of the Queen. There is considerable trade with the States, while the wharves are lined with foreign shipping. Manufacturing is carried on to a great extent, thereby giving employment to large numbers of girls. The stores and residences, like the churches, are handsome and costly. The ladies generally are good looking—some beautiful; all present a healthy appearance, owing to the cold and bracing climate, the winter lasting six months. Victoria Bridge, one and a quarter miles in length, is one of the attractions of the city. Large steamers pass under this grert work, which makes an unbroken line of rail for many hundreds of miles.

The capital of the Dominion is Ottawa. The people have protection at but little cost; they are sovereign to a great extent, the Governor-General having but little to recommend to Parliament. The government is a mixture of forms, a little of the republic and a little of the monarchy. When one is appointed to office he must go before his people and stand the chances of an election. If not confirmed by the electors the appointment is void. There are qualifications for electors—to be assessed for $200 to vote at elections; $300 at others.

The International Typographical Union held its Convention on the 2d of June. The craft of the city paid every attention to the delegates. Excursions and drives afforded all fine opportunity for viewing the beautiful scenery round.

Returning, the fine towns of Norwich and New London, in Connecticut, were visited, the printers of the former doing too much for their brethren. Of New York, nothing need be said—justice could not be done. The kindness of the printers, the visit to Central Park, the excursion, &c., will long be remembered.

President Lincoln.

MR. BOUTWELL'S EULOGY.

In his brief address at Groton, Mass., on Decoration Day, Hon. George S. Boutwell, said:

"If we limit our observation to men trained and serving in civil life exclusively, Mr. Lincoln appears to be the first personage in American history. In powers of reasoning he rivaled Webster, and he was endowed with a subtile wit and laughter-moving irony to which Webster had no claim. He was formidable in debate, and wrote and spoke some of the best sentences in the English language.

"His speech at Gettysburg was not an accident or a temporary inspiration. A similar power was manifest in his debate with Douglas, and his first inaugural contains paragraphs that rival the choicest of the language. I quote one that is marked by the spirit of prophecy and at the same time is the tenderest of the numerous appeals for the Union, with our literature is filled: 'The mystic chords of memory stretching from every battle field and patriot grave, to every living hearth and hearthstone, all over this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union, when again touched, as surely they will be, by the better angels of our nature-'

"Admitting, asserting, rather, that his cabinet was composed of able men, it yet remains for me to express the opinion that he excelled all and every one of them in each of the essential qualities of statesmanship. He was endowed with a power of foreseeing—sagacity to anticipate future events touching the public welfare. He had firm faith in the people—in their wisdom justice and power. He posessed true courage. He was never dismayed by misfortune—never overcome by disaster. He had practiced wisdom that he could apply without delay to present questious.

"This, and the quality I first mentioned, are tests of statesmanship, without which there can be no eminence in the administration of public affairs. It yet remains for the world to learn that at one of the two critical moments in our foreign affairs he corrected and chastened a most important diplomatic paper with his own hands, showing signs for clearness of judgment and great subtlety of genius in matters outside of his training and experience."

A furrier advise[illegible] furs carefully with[illegible] sealing them up in[illegible] will rid them of the[illegible]

Coming events cast their shadows before.

The crash of a looking-glass blanches many a cheek; the new moon seen through branches of trees is a sure fore-runner of ill-luck; a dish-cloth dropped on the floor, or the scissors standing on the extremity of one of its blades declares approaching visitors; the burning of the right ear assures one [illegible] being spoken of him, of the [illegible] is a victim of slander. These [illegible] at all that a necklace of [illegible] bones or the front paws of a [illegible] around the neck will prevent [illegible] ing in teething children, and a horseshoe over the door will bring good fortune to the inmates of the dwelling. Brave the man, fearless the woman, who dares start an enterprise on Friday.

Such is the natural desire of humanity to penetrate the future, and [illegible] the vision of the present [illegible] imaginary sign of such a power is eagerly seized in the hope that it may impart some knowledge hidden from us. One fact is certain: that men and women of good sense pay no attention to [illegible] all. What connection can there possibly be between a broken mirror and a sudden death? between Friday and failure, between good luck and a horseshoe? Yet there are multitudes who believe in all these "signs" as firmly as in the laws of the material world. Of such it may truly be said, ignorance is the mother of superstition and the only way of ending the superstition is by diffusing practical elementary knowledge. All things in heaven and earth are subject to law; as truly are souls obedient to spiritual laws as universal matter to the law of gravitation, and there is no nook or corner in all God's creation for the sway of blind chance.

So far as signs, premonitions, and similar phenomena are concerned, wise men are utterly skeptical. If one eats too much rich pie or cake he will be likely to have forebodings of evil, which, if he do not mend his ways, will certainly overtake him. If he believes in himself, and in his own good luck, those who meet him will catch the feeling, and good luck he will be likeley to have; if on the contrary he believes himself unfortunate, unmerciful disaster will follow fast. St. Paul sums up the whole question of signs in a nutshell when he exhorts Timothy to "refuse profane and old wive's fables"

A Girl who Never Saw a Young Man.

An old man who lives near St. Helena, Cal., in a wild solitude, has a very pretty daughter, aged 19, who had probably never seen a young man til her father took her to San Francisco the other day to see the town. She was dressed up prettily, for the first time in her life, and her silks and ribbons and the gay [illegible] almost turned her head. But what most interested her was that hitherto unknown being—the young man. Every time she saw one she would fix her eyes earnestly on him, and she actually made several attempts to get away from the old man, that she might cultivate the acquaintance of these young gentlemen, so that he finally caught her and led her by the hand. After he got her on the boat for Vallejo, on the homeward trip, he felt pretty safe and concluded to take a drink. He took several, and in his absence the daughter made the acquaintance of two sprightly young men on the boat, and she was so fascinated with male society that she made arrangements to forake her old father and go with them. She successfully gave her father the slip when they left the boat [illegible] cars, and the infatuated girl was [illegible] between them in a smoking [illegible] her father found her and wh[illegible] of that car, in the liveliest [illegible] kept his hands on her till they reached home. He will not dare expose her to such peril again, and the poor girl is destined to close confinement out of the world of young men unless she runs away.

The town of Dover, Vt., is a queer place. It exists without doctors, lawyers, or preachers. Many years ago there were doctors there, and the people of the town took pills and died, according to the approved practice; but they don't do it now. Formerly, too, in the days of the fathers, there was "stated preaching," but the people became thoroughly indoctrinated in the right way that further efforts were unnecessary." There never was a lawyer in the place, and if one should move there the people promise to write his epitaph "Died of starvation," very soon. A native of the town, writing to a Rochester paper says: "There may be more shrubbery in the cemetary than is altogether tasteful or ornamental, but the statement that the people leave the town to die, and for the purpose of getting into good company at the resurrection, is a base slander."

THE RAIL ROAD.

About four years ago a gentleman from Pennsylvania—one long connected with rail roads and who had made the subject a study for years—paid this city a visit. He was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and was a close observer. He saw that a road could be cheaply built in this countyr and was satisfied it would pay. He wrote us saying:

"You need a rail road—a cheap but well built road, by way of Camden and Princes Ann, to run passengers and ligh: freight in quick time. Such a road with light equipments can be built very cheaply. And a road of this kind will pay the stockholders from the beginning, and build up the country at a rate never dreamed of. Railroads create the business on which they thrive, and nowhere are the opportunities more inviting than at your place. This too would make the canals pay, for parodoxical as it may seem, the State canals of Pennsylvania, which were sold, or given to the railroad companies that built roads running directly with them from end to end, now pay a better dividend than the railroads themselves, and they in no way interfere with each other. The history of public improvements everywhere establishes this fact."

Not a day since the date of our friend's letter have we doubted the expediency of building a railroad in this section, and on all proper occasions we have agitated the subject. We not only believed the enterprise to be entirely feasible but we felt impressed with the conviction that its final consummation was only a question of time. Of course when we talked about the iron horse being seen and heard in Elizabeth City there were those who pronounced us a visionary. But the events of the past month—the railroad meetings and the survey made by practical Engineers—begin to convince even the more skeptical that a railroad is among the probabilities, to say the least.

The people of the counties along the line have but to will it—to act promptly, liberally and all together, and the road will be built Then will all our people not only be put in close communication with the great commercial cities of the country, but they will be placed on the high road to progress. Population will come, fatcories will be built, enterprize will be stimulated and every interest advanced.

INGERSOLL'S LIFE OF GREELEY.—We call attention to the advertisement of the "Life and times of Horace Greeley" a work of which L. D. Ingersoll is author, and the Union Publishing Co., advance sheets of this book, to be issued May 1ts., that it will be the Life of Horace Greeley which the people will above all others want. It is full, graphic, truthful, impartial—a work of interest and value to men of all parties. Mechanically, it will be the handsomest book for general circulation ever published in America; magnificently illustrated and beantifully bound. We can safely say it will be one of the best and cheapest of all American publications. Get ready to buy a copy.

There are no poor people in Providence. A man has proved this by hiring a negro to carry a shoulder of pork to any poor family that he coul find in the city. It is said he went to every house in town where he thought poverty could be found and its presence was in every case denied.—Ex.

Those who put their trust in Providence seem to have all the pork they want.

A rational use has been found for those granges of the Patrons of Husbandry in Iowa. They get together in vast numbers and go off on picnics with drums and banners and all the pomp and circumstance of a glorious good time.—Ex.

Of course they are a wronged and oppressed people, and it is sensible in them trying to thus forget their afflictions.

The ease with which France meets her war debt and answers the demancs of Germany is something admirable. It shows a sense of obligation, and a degree of moral responsibility, and a regard for national honor, that may well put to shame any people that talk of repudiating their debts.

We should like to have a hundred or so of them try the experiment on us. We'd take it and put it "where it will do the most good."

OUR CORRESPONDENCE

From over the Sound.

A CASE OF SUICIDE—A NEW LINE OF STEAMERS TO BALTIMORE —A GUANO FACTORY ADVOCATED.

Mrs. Charles Mason committed suicide last week by drowning herself in the well. She leaves a devoted husband, and several small children, as well as relations and friends to mourn her untimely end. The cause was the result of a severe attack of typhoid fever, several years ago from which she imperfectly recovered, leaving her mind permanently impaired.

There is earnest commotion all along the line of the *river of Pearl—the grand old Roanoke,—in relation to the new line of steamers now being placed on route for Baltimore.

Chowan responds to the burthen of the monoply, and her citizens are interested and offer their cooperation with those of this side o. the Albemarle and Roanoke, for self protection. all Along the line, the watchword is "come to the rescue; self preservation is the first law of nature."

It is rumored by some weak in the knees, that the monoply will eventually come out victorious, by purchasing the canal and have the game in their own hands. We shall see. If North Carolinians are true to themselves we have nothing to fear on this point. When Congress meets again it is to be hoped the necessary steps will be taken by our Representatives to make the old canal thoroughly navigable for such classes of vessels as will do the carrying trade in our waters.

This will open the blocade if made, and give us a fair fight for the supremacy, and will assuredly be of equal advantage to our sister counties below.

Allow me to call attention of capitalist to the importance of establishing a Guano Factory at some convenient point upon our sea coast, to supply eastern North Carolina with the fish fertilizer which is being so extensively supplied to every section of the State from Norfolk, at a price unreasonably high. Last winter a sloop from New Haven, Con., arrived at our wharfs with a load of fish Guano, charging only twenty-five dollars a ton, it was all that they asked. It went off like hot cakes, and thus far has proven to be as good as any other article of the kind. The same vessel, probably others, will be out early next spring at the above price. If we can have it brought to our doors from such a distance at half the price we pay our neighbors for a like article, we must conclude it can be made at home at the same price with a fair dividend.

A Letter from Gen. Spruill.

Norfolk, Va., June 17th, 1873.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

I have received a bundle of your papers, and beg to thank you for your kind remembrance of me. Although we have heretofore differed so widely in politics, yet I have always felt interested in your paper. It has, from its honesty and general fairness, commanded respect, and certainly, it has been of great service. Indeed, I feel that it is due to you to acknowledge the benefits you have conferred upon our town and county. You have been the means of bringing among us an intelligent, industrious, sober and useful class of men, and quite an amount of capital has been invested, and scattered among our people.

Whatever interests my dear old State, and particularly my section of it, interests me also. Born and raised in the Albemarle country, I have a warm affection for it aud its people. Years ago I supposed that the only improvement that could be made, to benefit our condition, was the old Nags Head project, (which old politicians will remember) and our canals. These canals have been of great service; and could we be assured that the Dismal Swamp Canal would be enlarged as proposed, we might be well content with its navigation. Will it be done? We have waited long and hoped for it until "hope deferred, has made the heart sick." An opportunity is now offered to secure a Railroad. Shall we use our exertions and means, and secure this road, or shall we still play the Rip Van Winkle, and sleep on?

I am rather old Fogyish, but I feel that if this opportunity is lost, it may not be offered again, and we should join in and secure the Road.

I confess that I am afraid of the Big Railroad Men. I have seen and read of so much fraud and corruption among them, that when I hear of any new project among them, I think there is a speculation or fraud at the bottom and robbery and plunder are the moving causes, and I fear them.

May we entertain the hope that those who conduct the monied affairs of the Road, are just and honest men; and that our funds will be properly and honestly used? I hope so. At all events I am for risking the consequences and sudscribing to, and building the Road, as soon as possible.

Very Respectfully,
H. G. SPRUILL

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the Albemarle Agricultural Society met on Saturday, June 21st 1873. Present, Dr. P. John, Rev. W. W. Kennedy, Geo. D. Pool, Geo. W. Charles and J. H. Shaw. The Secretary being absent, J. H. Shaw was requested to act pro tem.

A proposition was read from a party to rent the Fair Grounds for a Trot on the 4th of July, for which they agree to put the track in good order and pay the Society $5. The proposition was agreed to on condition that if more than two horses are placed on the track for a purse an additional charge of $2.50 will be made for each horse; and that other parties, not stockholders, desiring to use the track for the trial of speed on that day pay 50 cts. for each horse It was decided that hereafter $20. dollars rent wlll be charged for every main race—two horses—and $2.50 for each additional horse, the receipts for entrance fees, &c., to be kept by the party renting, and the track to be put in order by the Society.

It was further decided to charge all non stocholders $1 a month for the privalege of using the track for pleasure at any time. Applications for "Privileges" to be made to J. H. Shaw, Esq., at the "Albemarle House," who will also furnish the applicant with a key. These Privileges are not transferable, nor can they be used by any other party.

Stockholders, excepting at Fairs, or on days when the track is rented, can drive on the track at all times at pleasure.

Dr. P. John, Geo. D. Pool and J. H. Shaw were appointed a Committee to arrange and prepare a Premium List for this Fall Fair.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

June 9th, 1873.

FOR some time past a report has obtained general circulation and credence in New York city that Whitelaw Reid, of the Tribune, had proposed marriage to Miss Anna Dickson, and had been definitely given to understand that he "was not the man." A few days since Whitelaw Reid wrote Miss Dickinson, requesting her to allow him to deny, through the Tribune, the rumor that he had been "flatly jilted by the eminent lady." The reply he got was so cutting that it will not pass from the memory of man for years to come. "If I can stand the rumor," writes Miss Dickinson, "of such a proposal, certainly you should experience no difficulty in bearing the report of the jilting." Exit Whitelaw.

Joe Duncan was hanged at Paris. Kentucky, on Friday for the murder of John Hawkins in April, 1872. After he committed the murder Duncan disappeared, but returned and was apprihended, tried at the Spring Term of the Bourbon County Circuit Court, and sentenced to be hanged. Unsuccessful efforts were made to have his sentenae commuted to imprisonment for life. When the drop fell the rope stretched, letting his feet down to the ground. He was cut down insensible, carried back to the platform, the rope readjusted, and the insensible body pushed off. This time the judicial homicide was successfully accomplished. About three hundred persons witnessed the scene.

A charming young widow, Mrs Lottie Palmer, a while ago opened a photograph gallery in Racine, Wis. The consequence was a perfect passion on the part of the gentlemen of Racine to be photographed. This might do for the single setters and the widowers; but when the married men began to have their pictures taken, the matrons of Racine went for that gallery, demolished the camera, and generally put a negative in the most positive way upon the business.

On Wednesday morning last a masked party broke into the house of John Jennings, the chief of a gang of robbers in Watzell County, in West Virginia. Mrs. Jennings seized an ax to defend her husband, when the party fired, killing Jennings and fatally wounding Mrs. Jennings. The lynchers left a written notice to the other members of the gang to leave the country.

President Grant has accepted the invitation of Joseph R. Hawley, President of the United States Centenial Commission, to participate on the 4th of July in the ceremonies attending the transfer of the grounds in Fairmount Park to the Commission for the Exhibition in 1876.

Michigamme City, in Marquette county, on Lake Superior, was on the 21st destroyed by fire, which caught from the burning woods around the place. It was a mining town in iron and contained some 600 inhabitants. Eight bodies have been recovered from the fire. Others are missing. The people took refuge in the lake.

Miss Snsan B. Anthony's sentence for voting illegally is that she pay a fine of $100 and the costs of prosecution.

"Patrick, you take steak rare or well done?" "Well done, if ye plaze, rare enough I got it in the ould country."

Time Tests the Merits of all Things.

1840, FOR OVER THIRTY YEARS. 1873.

PERRY DAVIS'

PAIN-KILLER.

HAS been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to Americans. If is the constant companion and inestimable friend of the missionionary and the traveler on the sea or land, and no one should travel on our Lakes or Rivers, without it.

Since the PAIN-KILLER was first introduced, and met with such extensive sale, many Liniments, Releifs, Panaceas, and other Remidies have been offered to the public, but not one of them has attained the truly enviable tianding of the PAIN-KILLER,

WHY IS THIS SO?

It is because DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER is what it claims to be a Reliever of Pain.

ITS MERITS ARE UNSURPASSED.

If you are suffering from INTERNAL PAIN, Twenty to Thirty Drops in a Little Water will almost instantly cure you. There is nothing te equal it for Colic, Cramps, Spasms, Heart-burn, Diarrhea,
Dysentry, Flux, Wind in the Bowels,
Sour Stomache, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, &c.

In sections of the country where prevails, there is no remedy held in greater esteem. Persons traveling should keep it by them. A few drops, in water, will prevent sickness or bowl troubles from change of water.

FEVER AND AGUE

From foreign countries the calls for PAIN-KILLER are great. It is fonnd to

CURE CHOLERA WHEN ALL OTHER REMEDIES FAIL.

When used Externally, as a L[illegible]ment, nothing gives quicker ease in Bur[illegible] Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Stings from Insects, an[illegible]lds. It removes the fire, and the wound h[illegible]ke ordinary sores. Those suffering wit[illegible]U-MATISM, GOUT, or NEURALGI[illegible]t a positive cure, they find the Pain-K[illegible]ves them relief when no other remedy wi[illegible]

IT GIVES INSTANT RELIEF FROM ACHING TEETH.

Every House-Keeper should keep it at hand, and apply it on the first attack of any Pain. It will give satisfactory relief, and save hours of suffering.

Do not trifle with yourselves by testing untried remedies. Be sure you call for and get the genuine PAIN-KILLER, as many worthless nostrums are attempted to be sold on the great reputation of this valuable medicine.

☞ Directions accompany e ch bottle.

Price 25 cts., and 50 cts., and $1 per Bottle.

The [illegible]

ORTH CAROLINIAN

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 25, 1873.

TO NORTHERN VISITORS. Elizabeth City is 50 miles South East of Norfolk, Va. Parties coming here from the North should take passage on the Bay line steamers which leave Baltimore at 4 P. M. every evening, and arrive at Portsmouth the next morning in time to connect with the Elizabeth City Steamers daily.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this issue.

Bankrupt Notices.
Notice to Saw Millers.
All canvassers.
Pasquotank mills.
1st Senatorial Republican Convention.

Local and Personal

Blackberries are plentiful.

The Wheat harvest is about over.

The corn and cotton prospect in Pasquotank is quite favorable.

Teachers! are you prepared for the examinations next week?

See the valuable Hotel property in Hertford, advertised for sale.

We are now indulging in the luxury of "roasting ears" from our "little farm."

A number of our lawyers are absent attending Dare County Court this week.

There will be another Trot on the Albemarle Park, near this City, on the 4th of July.

Hon. W. A. Moore will hold Mecklenburg Court which commences on the 3d Monday in July.

Our Plymouth correspondent will accept our thanks for his kind offer. His favors are always acceptable.

We call attention to the proposal for bids for Lumber to build a new Court House in the county of Dare.

Another Cargo of ice has just arrived at the Ice House. Mr. Walter Scott is prepared to accommodate all.

Our genial, popular, versatile and sometimes laconic friend Capt. Harney will consider our "beaver tipped" for his compliments!!

We see it stated that a boquet can be retained in freshness much longer by using soap-suds or soaped water in the vase.

Special attention is called to the published proceedings of the late meeting of the Executive Committee of the Albemarle Agricultural Society.

Hon. Geo W. Brooks has returned from holding the Federal Court at Raleigh. We are glad to see that his health is very much improved.

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that the approaching anniversary of our National Independence is to be celebrated at this place.

Rev. Mr. Lambeth, former Pastor of the M. E. Church, is spending a few days in our city. We are sorry to learn that he is suffering from ill health.

What is more pleasant, agreeable or refreshing than a sparkling glass of ice Soda Water? You can procure it at Dr. Butt's, flavored to suit the taste. Delicious and invigorating.

We call attention to the advertisement of the "Pasquotank Mills." Mr. Lippincott, the junior member of the firm, may always be found at the "Albemarle House" or at the Bank.

A cotemporary says that during the warm weather the principal occupation of the "girl of the period" in his town seems to be sitting on the stoop waiting for the "coming man."

Messrs Brodrick & Smith, have decided to add a third story to their large brick building on Water Street. The Odd Fellows have agreed to rent and fit it up for a Hall.

By announcement in our advertising columns it will be seen that our townsman Col. C. W. Davis takes charge of the Alexina House at Nags Head. It will be opened the 15th of July.

We publish, on our first page this week, an interesting account of a "Trip to Montreal" by M. V. B. Gilbert, Esq., formerly connected with the Carolinian office as Foreman. He was a representative from the Typographical Union of the City of Raleigh to the Convention of the International Typographical Union.

The repairs on the "Steamer Harbinger" are nearly completed. She will be one of the most comfortable and pleasant steamers on our Waters. The Company are sparing no effort to give full satisfaction to the traveling and business public.

The Grounds of the "Agricultural Society" at this place have been named the "Albemarle Park." The drive on the Track is one of the finest in the State. Persons, not members of the Society, desiring to enjoy the privilege of using it can procure the same on application to J. H. Shaw, Esq., at the "Albemarle House."

The trial line survey on the route from Norfolk to Edenton has been made by the Engineers of the "Atlantic Coast Railway Company," Engineer Comstock and his Corps having reached Edenton on Thursday last. They are now about to sound the rivers and Col Mapes is busy on the maps. Everything is being made ready for business as soon as a favorable report is made by the people of the several counties at the ballot box on the subscription question. If the people say, in a practical form, that they want the road it will be built.

In another column we publish a letter from Gen Spruill. We do it not so much for its frank and friendly tone—for which we tender our acknowledgements—as for the interest he manifests in our contemplated railroad. He feels a lively concern for every movement calculated to benefit and improve the condition of our people. In this regard he is not an "old fogy." We are glad to learn that his health is improving, and we hope he will live to see this latest and greatest enterprize in this Albemarle country consummated.

The new postage law which goes into effect on the first day July requires pre-payment of postage on all publications sent through the mail. The postage on a weekly paper is twenty cents per year, or five cents per quarter, payable at the Post Office where the paper is delivered. As it is highly probable some modification of the law will take take place at the next meeting of Congress, so far as County papers are concerned, we advise the subscribers of the North Carolinian not to pay more than six months postage in advance, which would be ten cents.

Now, that the "heated term" is fully inaugurated, our citizens cannot be too vividly impressed with the importance of a thorough purification of the entire city; and the sooner that alleys, streets and door yards are thoroughly cleaned, the better for the city's health.—The season of invidious fever and of epidemics of all kinds is close at hand. Experience has demonstrated that in just such proportion as cleanliness prevails in communities, in just that proportion is immunity from epidemics secured. This is a most important duty each citizen owes, not only to himself, but to his neighbors, and we hope the matter will receive the careful consideration of every one—and that, too, at once.

Sometimes subscribers complain of the amount of advertising in our paper. But generally they like to see them—they are matters of local interest and evidences of enterprize and business. We came in contact the other day with a gentleman that specially commended us for the advertisements. He said the advertisements saved him many times the price of the paper in the course of a year, remarking that a live merchant that had a good thing generally allowed it to be known, and one of the first things he and his wife looked for was the advertisements. It is well understood that this class of men (and they are numerous and increasing every day) know nothing of merchants who never advertise.

It is important that the Commissioners of the counties of Camden, Pasquotank, Perquimans and Chowan take action at their next meeting on submitting the question of railroad subscription to the people. We earnestly hope this action will be promptly taken. Let the question be submitted at the August election. The Company is anxious to know what to depend upon. If the several counties refuse to do their part the project fails—the road will not be built; but if each county comes up and does its duty the work on the road will commence at once. Then so far as the counties are concerned the first responcibility rests upon the Commissioners. If they refuse or fail to take the proper action in submitting the question the people cannot vote on it.

One of the great advantages of a railroad to a place like Elizabeth City will be to induce men of capital to engage in the various kinds of manufacturing. These bring people—give employment to thousands. And all have got to be fed. Look at it. One manufactory employing a hundred men will support an additional population of five hundred people. These hundred families will disburse annually, on an average, the sum of $750 for each family, or $75,000 in the aggregate. This money will be drawn into the town from the outside where the manufactured products are to be consumed. The interest of this $75,000 will be $7,500 at ten per cent. A man with a wooden head provided it was anything but a cotton-wood, will see the logic of the above figures. Let every man advocate and support the railroad enterprize.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

Have some of the very best blood of the country in their veins—the mosquitoes. Intellectual farming—harrowing a man's feelings. The main object to most persons—money. Generally honest—the men who are well watched. Often bought with other people's money—silks, broadcloth and jewelry. I am partaking largely of the spirit of the as the fellow said when taking A loafer in a printing office is like a shade tree—because he is most welcome when he leaves.

Business Locals.

Going, going, going all the while—those nice goods at Fowler's

No matter if the weather is hot, the large house of Lowenburg & Jacobs at 22 & 24 Market Square, Norfolk Va., Keep on in the eventenor of its way supplying customers with all they need.

We see that Procter & Gamble's Extra Olive Soap is becoming very popular in our city, its quality we know is superior, and being nicely perfumed we are not surprised that consumers prefer it and that it has a large sale. -1 3m

MEDICINAL POISONS ON THE WANE.—Patriarchs took no mercury, no bismuth, iodine, no bromide of potassium, no strychnine, no quinine. Happy old gentlemen! they did not even know of the existence of these "specifics," and yet they lived until it seemed as if Death had forgotten them. Their medicines were herbs and roots. They have left this fact on record, and the world seems to be now taking note of it and returning to the first principles of medication. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable restorative of the day, is also the most popular. Thousands of persons who only a few years ago believed implicitly in all the poisons that figure in the pharmacopeia, now pronounce this palatable tonic and alternative an all-sufficient remedy for dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, billious complaints, headache, intermittent fevers, and all the ordinary disturbances of the Stomach, the liver, the discharging organs and the brain. The time is not far distant when most of the powerful and venomous drugs now so recklessly administered by practitioners of the "heroic" school, in case that might be easily controled by milder treatment, will be utterly discarded by all philosophical physicians. As it is the thinking public who are generally ahead of the professionals, have already put the dangerous preparation aside and adopted Hostetter's Bitters in their stead as a safe and excellent household medecine, adapted to almost every ailment except the organic and deadly contagious diseases. For more than twenty years this famous restorative and preventive has been annually strengthening its hold upon the public confidence, and it now takes the lead of every advertised medicine manufactured in this country.

Beware of Counterfeits!

JOB MOSES' SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS

Are extensively COUNTERFEITED. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profits. The genuine have the name of Job Moses on each package. All others are worthless imitations. The GENUINE Pills are unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. They moderate all excessive and cure all suppression of the menses when caused by cold, inflammation, or disease. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although very powerful, contain nothing hurtful to the most delicate constitution.

Circular in English German and French around each bottle gives full direction and advice.

The GENUINE Pills are sold at most drug stores, but if your druggist cannot supply the GENUINE, do not be persuaded to accept any counterfeit or bogus article but send One Dollar to the sole proprietor, Job Moses, 18 Cortlandt Street, New York, with name of express office at which you will call for the package, and a bottle of the GENUINE Pills securely and safely packed in plain wrappers will be sent by return express.

FOUTZ
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite, gives a smooth and glossy skin, and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

OF NORTH CAROLINA.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
Raleigh, June 9th, 1873. }

Be it known to all whom it may concern. That in conformity with section 8, chapter 153 of the acts of the General Assembly passed at the session of 1872-'73, in relation to amendments of the Constitution of the State:

I, Tod R. Caldwell, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do order so much of the preamble of said act as sets forth the alterations proposed and agreed to, and the second section of said act to be publised for thirty days preceding the first Thursday of August, 1873, in the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," the "Daily Era," and the "Daily News," published in Raleigh, and also for the same length of time in the following Weekly papers, published in the various Congressional Districts of the State, to-wit:

First District,—"North Carolinian," Elizabeth City; "Express," Washington.
Second District—"News," Goldsboro; "Mail," Rocky Mount.
Third District—"Star," Wilmington; "Statesman," Fayetteville.
Fifth District—"New North State," Greensboro; "Chronicle," Milton.
Sixth District—"Democrat," Charlotte; "Spirit of the South," Rockingham.
Seventh District,—"American," Statesville; "Watchman," Salisbury.
Eight District—"Pioneer" and "Expositor," Asheville.

That portion of the preamble ordered to be published is in the following words, to-wit:

"Whereas, The last General Assembly, (three-fifths of the whole numbers of each House concuring,) the bill containing the same having been read three times in each House, proposed the following alterations of the Constitution of the State, to-wit: Alterations in relation to the public debt; alteration in relation to the office of Superintendent of Public Works; alteration in relation to the State census; alteration in relation to exemptions from taxation: alteration in relation to the University; alteration in relation to the sessions of the General Assembly; alteration in relation to the Code Commissioners; alteration in relation to Federal and other officers holding office."

The second section of the said act ordered to be published is in the following words, to-wit:

"It shall be the duty of the Sheriffs in each and every county in the State to open polls at the several election precincts in his county on the said first Thursday in August next, and the same shall be kept open for one day, from the hour of eight o'clock in the morning to the hour of seven in the afternoon, when all persons qualified to vote according to the Constitution, may vote for or against the ratification of each of the said amendments, those desiring such amendments to vote with the written or printed ticket 'For Amendments,' those of a contrary opinion to vote with a written or printed ticket, 'Against Amendments.'"

The attention of County Commissioners and Inspectors of the Election is also called to the 4th section of said act of Assembly which provide that separate ballot-boxes shall be furnished for each amendment to be voted on.

Done at our City of Raleigh, the ninth [L. S.] June, A. D. 1873, and in the ninety-seventh year of American Independence.

TOD R. CALWELL.

R. PARKER, Assignee.

By their Fruits ye shall know them.

Farmers ought to know that, as a class, their reputation is not high in regard to their living well, and especially in regard to the use of fruit on their tables. Of small fruits they have so few that industrious and intelligent mechanics living in cities and towns, when they happen to sit at a farmer's tables, think it surprising, for it is supposed that farmers have everything good. The diet is bread, potatoes, and meat, almost without exception, year in and year out. Dried fruit is, or it used to be, in fair supply; but when sweet apples are used instead of sugar to sweeten the sour, the taste is far from inspiring. And yet, with a little labor and attention, strawberries can be grown in sufficient quantities for canning; also, gooseberries and currants, whenever its great enemy the currant worm, is not destructive. A jelly can be made from apples both cheaply and plentifully, and it is exceedingly palatable. Quinces can be grown almost everywhere without difficulty, while cherries and plumbs, at least of some sorts, can usually be produced. Whatever may be the difficulties in particular localities with regard to growing fruit trees, the small fruits almost invariably do well, and it may be said, also, that if a variety of trees are planted, some of them at least will be quite sure to bear every year.

It may be said that if a farmer lives any considerable number of years in one place, and has not fruit to supply the table, he is either lazy or shamefully neglectful. The chance is that he is lazy; and as a consequence, his children are not likely to improve upon the stock, while the prospects are that they will degenerate into criminals. Boys living in homes where fruit is scarce will be almost certain to steal it, and when conscience is once weakened other stages are easy and natural.

The growing of fruit is so important that many other good qualities and habits are connected therewith, and, firstly, for the reason that the habit of thorough cultivation is established. One who grows fruit will also be certain to grow all kinds of vegetables, and to take a pride in showing his garden. Second, he will be certain to cultivate such crops as he undertakes to grow, with much greater care, and it may be truthfully said that the foundation of agricultural, is horticultural knowledge. More than this, a fruit grower comes to have a refined taste and a generous sensibility; and he will naturally encourage his wife in the cultivation of flowers; he will see that his dwelling has pleasant surroundings of evergreens and other trees, while he will seek to abbreviate and make pleasant the labors of his family withindoors, by secureing conveniences and improvements, and by making home more attractive and the children happier and better.

Among the rights which women have not claimed is that of having more industrious and more enterprising husbands, and almost all farmer's wives suffer for want of such. They work and slave and suffer mortiffcation because their husbands spend hours in idleness when they might plant and cultivate fruit and add to the adornments of home. Farmers talk about hard times and railroad monopolies and the extortions of merchants and tradesmen, while they lose hundreds if not thonsands of dollars by neglecting to plant fruit and to improve their homes; and their children following their example, of necessity take the downward road. Farmers want more energy, more judgment, more refinement, more sense. N. C. M.

Ancient Agriculture.

Among the Egyptians, of olden times, the Priests and soldiers owned the land; the soldiers possessed about six acres each near the Delta of the Nile. In times of war they equiped themselves; when war had ceased and tumult had subsided they returned satisfied to the sacred river, and made its fertile alluvium teem with verdue. There they cast their bread on the water; they reared the flax from which the royal vesture was woven; and from it the ephods of the priest were spun. The remnants of the winding sheet of the mummies, viewed by the microscope, show remains of flax. There they produce herbs and roots to supply the world with drugs. They also produce wheat and leguminous vegetables, which have been found in mummy cases.

We know that agriculture was a part of their wisdom. Behold the pyramids, and ask what muscles could pile them save those made strong by the best products of the land. It was the strength gained from the soil that was sufficient to rear old Carnack and construct the mighty temples of Thebes.

The Carthagenians paid great attention to agriculture; the kingly ones cultivate the soil and princes toiled in the field. When the Romans spoiled the land, the only books they found worth preserving were twenty-eight volumes on agriculture.

With the Spartans all know that agriculture was not regarded; the laws of Lycurgus prohibited the soldiers from cultivating the soil; the slaves did this. When a Nation like the Spartans neglect this noble pursuit they must resort to the black broth.

Some of the Grecian States had regard for this vocation, and their products were exhibited at the Olympic games. The Chinamen who walked over bridges built two thousand years ago, who cultivated the cotton plant centuries before this country was heard of, who fed the silk worm before King Solomon built his thrones, have fifty thousand square miles around Shanghai which are called the garden of China, and which have been tilled by countless generations, and are as productive now as ever. God made agriculturists of his ancient people; We say the iron plow was invented in Scotland; but Isaiah speaks of turning swords into plowshares.

Kill Grass all the Summer and buy Hay.

If there is anything more unreasonable and profitless in the farmer than to toil hard to keep the grass out of the farm and then purchase the same article that is produced miles off, we are at a loss to know what it is, Be it believed or not, it is true, the planter who practices this though he may produce heavy crops of cotton he cannot prosper.

You may raise as much grass as you choose by breaking up and harrowing off any good lands that you may have, either high or low in cotton regions. Rich low lands are more certain, it is true, and will yield more.

One acre of good land thus prepared, the last of this month will yield two tons of crab grass. After the oat crop is harvested you may break and level the land and by the use of a mower you can in one week with a few hands save more on hay at $1,00 per 100 lbs. than anything else. Just think of the, imagine the nonsensical notion that pervades the cotton planter who upon cotton to supply even the ratio to his mules in hay in addition to raiment to his family. We favor no sumptuary law, but undoubtedly, if there was a law to take effect in 1873, taxing grass $1 per 100 lbs. that is imported into the State, it would be a source of profit to the national interest of cottondom.—State Agricultural Journal.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cent.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 50 cent.

GEO. D. POOL'S COLUMN.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A farm of 700 acres in Pasquotank County 10 miles from town, with fine two story dwelling, large barn, kitchen and other outhouses; as also, two other dwellings. barns and other houses at different points on the farm. This farm is all cleared but 150 acres, is free from swamps and other waste land, and is well adapted to raisiug corn, wheat, cotton, oats, &c. The price is 14,000 in easy payments.

A farm of 500 acres in Pasquotank County, 6 miles from town, and one mile from the River, with good new dwelling built in modern style, barn, stables, four tenant houses scattered over the farm, fine water, &c. This farm is situated on the most public road in the County, has 300 acres cleared and balance in splendid pine, oak, cypress, maple, sweet gum, and other valuable timber. It is peculiarly adapted to raising cotton, $50 per acre, net, having been realized on a part of it this year in cotton. It also grows corn, wheat, oats, and other crops well. Price $12,000 in easy payments.

A valuable vacant lot in the town of E. City containing a half square, on the principal street in the town immediately opposite Court House quare. Has an iron fence in front, fine shrubbery, and is near the large new Hotel justerected, Price $2,000 in easy payments.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Three farms—one of 100 acres, one of 80 acres and one of 190 acres, within two miles of town, mostly cleared land. Price $20 per acre for each tract—payments on easy terms. Also many other valuable farms and town lots too numerous to mention.

BANKRUPTCY.

THE FIFTY PER CENT. CLAUSE.

As there seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to the effect of the provision of the Bankrupt Act, commonly called the 50 per cent. clause, we publish the following extracts from the Act:

The second clause of the thirty-third section as amended by the Act of July 27, 1868, provides "that no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets shall not be equal to fifty per centum of the claims proved against his estate upon which he shall be liable as the principal debtor, unless the assent of writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors to whom he shall have become liable as principal debtor, and who shall have proved their claims, filed in the case at or before the time of hearing of the application for discharge.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled—that the provision of the second clause of the thirty-third section of said act as amended by the first section of an act in amendment thereof, approved July 27th, 1868, shall not apply to those debts from which the bankrupt seeks a discharge which were contracted prior to January 1st, 1869.

The true meaning is not that a bankrupt must be able to pay fifty per cent of all his debts, before he can obtain a discharge, as many believe; but that his estate, in the hands of his assignee, at the time of the discharge, must be equal, to fifty per cent. of the amount of the debts.

1. That he owes as principal;
2. That have been proved against his estate in bankruptcy; and
3. That he has contracted since the 31st day of December, 1868.

Or, if a majority in number and value of those who have proved their debts, to whom the bankrupt is indebted as principal, on debts contracted subsequent to Dec., 31, 1868, consent in writing to the discharge—such bankrupt may be discharged forever from all his debts.

If a debtor, owing three thousand dollars as principal, twenty-five hundred of which indebtedness was contracted prior to January 1. 1869, and five hundred subsequent to that time, files his petition in bankruptcy, and all his creditors prove against him, and there are no assets in the hands of the assignee, the petitioner will be entitled to a discharge; but it will be a bar only to the debts contracted prior to January 1, 1869.—If no creditors prove, the discharge will be good against all debts, whether contracted before or after January 1. 1869.

The practical effect in bankruptcy-cases generally is, that creditors fail to prove their debts, finding it ordinarily unprofitable. They have had, in a large majority of instances, heretofore the trouble and expense of making proofs, without receiving any return. The 50 per cent. bngbear, therefore when viewed in the light of the law and common-sense, disappears.

EXEMPTIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

The exemptions under the 14th section of the Bankrupt Act are as follows.

1. Household and Kitchen furniture to an amount not exceeding $500,00
2. Wearing apparel of Bankrupt and family,
3. Uniform, &c., if he has been a soldier in the United States Army.
4. Personal property of the value of $500.00 to be selected by the Bankrupt.
5. A Homestead and the dwelling and buildings used therewith, not exceeding in value the sum of $1000,.00; or in lieu thereof, any lot in any city, town or village not exceeding in value the sum of $1000.000.
6. The reversionary interest in the Homestead lands.

In laying off the Exemptions in some Districts, the Assignees are ordered to accept, and abide by, any assignment of a homestead which has been made by a Sheriff under the State laws; or which has been assigned upon the application of a debtor in accordance with the laws of North Carolina. Where no such assignment of homestead has been made, the assignee will proceed to set apart such homestead, and make the other exemptions according to the rules of the bankrupt Court.

The report of such exemptions when made by the assignee can be excepted to by the bankrupt or by any creditor, within twenty days after the allotment of such exempt property.

EFFECT OF THE DISCHARGE IN BANKRUPTCY UPON JUDGMENT.

It is the opinion of many of our best lawyers that the discharge in bankruptcy, discharges judgment debts existing against the bankrupt at the time of filing his petition, and that therefore the liens existing by virtue of such judgments, upon homesteads are wiped out, and cannot afterwards be enforced. In fine, that the practical effect of the discharge, is to leave a man, whose homestead was encumbered by judgments, free from all his debts, of every nature, and the owner in fee simple of such homestead.

Again many lawyers, equally prominent in the profession, are of opinion that such will not be the effect of the discharge. That the homestead, will still be liable under the judgments and that when it determines under our State laws, the judgment creditor may enforce his lien and collect his debts.

To place this matter beyond doubt, the following rule has been adopted for the benefit of petitioners who are not willing to run any risk.

That the petitioning debtor may file his petition in the District Court, addressed to Hon. Geo. W. Brooks, asking that the judgment creditor, or creditors, show cause why the liens existing in pursuance of their judgment should not be adjusted by said court, and their present value ascertain and fixed, and the amount when so ascertained, to be made the true value of such lien or liens by the decree or judgment of said District Court, in bankruptcy.

The right to adjust such liens, is exercised in pursuance of Sec. 1. of the Bankrupt Act.

FILING PETITIONS AND SCHEDULES

Petitions and Schedules must be in duplicate. Petitioner should sign each sheet, except oath to schedules. It is not necessary to file sheets, of schedules that are not used. All papers in bankruptcy must be sworn to before a Register in Bankruptcy, U. S. Commissioner, or Clerk of the court.

The following deposit to secure costs is required at time of filing Petition. Register $50, Clerk $20, Messenger $5. Bankruptcy blanks can be had of M. B. Culpepper, Elizabeth City, prepared in sets for Two Dollars per set.

The original papers in all such cases should be sent to T. W. Costen, Register, Elizabeth City, N. C.
